A Journey Through Eternity,

In the vast expanse of the multiverse lies a realm known as Eternawood—a place where time flows differently and the very essence of wood is imbued with an eternal quality.

Here, the grains of the trees dance and shift, forming surreal patterns that defy nature. Each intricate design tells a unique story, a silent testament to the passage of time and the enduring spirit of the natural world.

More than just a material, the Eternawood Collection embodies timeless elegance, transforming any space into a sanctuary of artistry and wonder. It is a gateway to a universe where time and space blur, where nature's essence is revered in all its splendor. A tribute to the resilience of wood and the eternal beauty of nature, Eternawood is not merely seen—it is experienced.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

BFM's high pressure laminates (HPL) are characterized by its strength, functional performance, durability, and aesthetic qualities. They are resistant to impact, heat, moisture, wear, scratching, staining and poses good antistatic and hygienic properties. For decorative purposes, they are excellent materials for indoor surfaces (EN 438) in horizontal and vertical applications.

BFM laminates are tested according to international standards for resistance for the aforesaid qualities and they are certified to meet IMO (International Maritime Organization) and Fire retardance.

The innovative anti-viral (i.e. COVID-19) laminates lineup are tested in accordance with ISO 21702:2019 (Modified) for SARS COV-2 and has a very high efficacy to reduce viral loads on the product.

The anti-bacteria line of products are tested for "Antimicrobial Activity" in accordance with JIS Z 2801:2010 by accredited labs. Evaluated organisms are Staphylococcus aureus ATCC 6538, Pseudomonas aeruginosa ATCC 9027 and Escherichia coli ATCC 8739.

BFM laminates are available in a variety of colors, surface textures and patterns, providing extensive options for architects and designers.

GENERAL HANDLING AND CARE

Handling:

- Protect from direct sunlight, humidity, and moisture.
- Store face-to-face, flat in horizontal racks where possible.
- When moving, laminates should be lifted above adjacent sheets to avoid damage if sheets are pulled or rubbed against each other.
- Each sheet can be rolled with decorative face inward and avoid side-to-side sliding.
- For special size (longer length) sheets should be carried along longitudinal axis to prevent sagging.

Usage and care:

- Do not cut directly on the surface with a knife. Always use a chopping board.
- Never place hot saucepans or dishes straight out of the oven directly on the surface. Always use table mats.
- Avoid leaving water and hot or wet objects like tea pots or coffee pots sitting on the surface. If stains appear due to limescale or water being left to sit, use soft cloth with soapy water to clean.
- When descaling, place a protective mat between the coffee maker and the surface in worktop applications.
- When cleaning, minimize the use of products that may smear the surface. Always wipe the surface with a soft microfiber cloth to keep it free from stains.
- Place the cleaning agent on the cloth rather than directly on the touch surface.
